Balls-n-all

The male equivalent of a Brazilian

Urban Body Laser specializes in a permanent laser hair removal treatment for men called Balls-n-all. It removes all hair on a male's private parts, including the shaft and base of the penis, the testicles, the area between the anus and the testicles, as well as the area between the bum cheeks.

Many people are not aware of it, but it is quite common for men to have hair grow on their shaft and that can be awkward during sexual penetration or oral sex. Excess hair can also affect visual appearance, personal hygiene and self-esteem.

Balls-n-all treatment packages range from just having the shaft and testicles treated to extensive hair removal throughout the entire area. If you prefer that we thin out and soften the hair but not remove it completely, we do that too. At Urban Body Laser, the choice is yours.

HOW IT WORKS

The laser targets the pigment melanin, which is what gives hair its colour. Dark hair has more melanin and responds best to laser treatments. The lighter the hair, the more difficult it is to remove. Bleached blond and white hair has no melanin and is impossible to remove. Grey hair sometimes has enough melanin to be treated effectively.

As the laser penetrates deep into the hair shaft, it heats the follicle long enough to stop it functioning and prevent re-growth. There are 3 stages of hair growth. Given that the laser only works in the first phase when the hair shaft is attached to the follicle, and that typically only about 5-20% of hair is in the first phase at any given time, multiple treatments are required.

The hair that does return in between treatments is softer and finer, so basically as soon as the process starts, you will no longer have any hard, rough stubbles to contend with.

The cost, duration of treatment, and number of treatments will depend on the extent of the surface area being treated. In general, treatments range from 5 to 30 minutes in length, an average of 5-12 treatments are required, and the cost will fall somewhere between $99 and $399.

WHY DO IT?

- Get rid of stubbly hair caused by shaving
- Look better and bigger
- Feel smooth to the touch
- Stay cleaner and fresher
- Enhance the sexual experience
- Clear the area for tattoos and jewelry

COMMON FEARS

One of the biggest concerns among men is the fear of getting an erection during treatment. While some men do get an erection, it has nothing to do with sexual arousal. It is simply a physiological response, as the heat of the laser increases blood flow to the area.

Rest assured that our technicians do not touch your private parts. Men are required to hold and adjust their own shaft and testicles during treatment.
